

Night Watch by Terry Pratchett

Night Watch is the story of Commander Sam Vimes of the Ankh-Morpork City Watch, who finds himself cast back in time. Though living in the Ankh-Morpork of his youth is not always easy, he must survive as he has a job to do, which involves tracking down a murderer, teaching himself how to be a good copper, and changing the outcome of a bloody rebellion. The only problem is, if he wins he has no wife, no child . and no future.

Night Watch was premiered by the Studio Theatre Club at the Unicorn Theatre, Abingdon, in January 2003.

'Terry Pratchett is an indisputable one-off... If Pratchett's many fans ever got the chance, they could certainly fill the largest football stadium in the land.' Independent

Genre:	fantasy	Fee:	£56 plus VAT, per performance
Cast:	m17 f12	Scripts:	ISBN 9780413774446 £8.99
Set:	various fantastical settings	Length:	2 acts
Contact:	amateur-rights@bloomsbury.com

EXTRACT

Wiglet What happened there, Sarge? You know that bloke?

Vimes Yes. Heç killed two coppers. Killed other people, too.

Wiglet But heç a copper!

Vimes Swing gave him a job.

Wiglet I never heard about coppers being killed.

Vimes It wasnç here. It was a long way away.

Wiglet So you came to track him down?

Vimes Something like that, yes.

Young Vimes (indicating the Unmentionable)
What are you going to charge him with, Sarge?

Vimes Attempted assault on an officer. You saw the knife.

Young Vimes You did kick him, though.

Vimes Right, I forgot. Weç do him for resisting arrest, too.

The Watchmen laugh as they exit. Lu-Tze enters.

Lu-Tze This is happening, but it isnç how it happened before. This time, the anarchists in Morphic Street did a runner; they werenç ambushed in their meeting, because some thick Night Watch Sergeant-at-Arms had made too much noise outside and alerted them. Two different presents. One past, one futureō Itç all very complicated, even for us History Monks.

If you enjoyed this, you might like:

- The Truth by Terry Pratchett (m25 f10)
 - The Fifth Elephant by Terry Pratchett (m16 f8)
 - Peter Pan by JM Barrie, ad. Trevor Nunn & John Caird (m28 f17)
-